Worshipful Masters Message

The Lambskin Apron

It is the first gift given to us upon initiation and the final garment deposited on our remains when we are called to the lodge on high. The lambskin apron is an emblem of innocence, white in color to represent purity. It is a reminder of the standards we hold ourselves to as Masons, standards such as rectitude of conduct, pure thoughts and noble deeds.

The apron is also a badge of a Mason. We are taught that the apron is more ancient than both the Golden Fleece and the Roman Eagle. While the order of the Golden Fleece was created in 1492 and the Roman Eagle was Rome's banner of power a century before the Christian era, history proves that the apron has been used since the beginning of civilization. It has been used by Hebrew prophets, ancient mysteries of India and Egypt, and the Jewish mystic sect which flourished from 2nd BCE to 1st Century CE.

The lambskin apron is also more honorable than the Order of the Garter founded by Edward II of England, and its imitation the Order of the Star by John II of France in the 14th Century. Both of these orders were formed for the benefit of the king and an exclusive class. Exclusive privileges were only available to that upper class and the King, whereas Freemasonry speaks to the equality of justice, opportunity, and the brotherhood of all man.

Finally, we are taught to wear the apron with honor. It is a symbol of integrity, honesty, as well as both moral and personal character. If we live to the standards of which the apron represents, we will be proud of our accomplishments, bringing honor to our fraternity.

Allyse and I would like to wish you and yours a Happy Easter and Passover.

Sincerely and fraternally,
Donald Keppen Jr.
Worshipful Master
