

Worshipful Master's Message

On Friday evening October 2nd, our lodge will honor Past Master's by holding our annual "Past Master's Night". This evening is an opportunity not only to see our Past Master's give the Master Mason Degree but to personally thank them for their past service to Laurel Lodge. Keep in mind, leadership positions do not only apply to our Past Masters, it applies to past and present Laurel Lodge Officers and white aproned Brethren as well.

I believe as Freemasons each and every one of us is capable of leadership in our own way, especially when you consider the life lessons and foundations taught in each degree. We took an obligation to remember these lessons especially when we venture out to mix with the world. Leadership does not have to be a position of power. Whatever your profession is, it is important to be a leader by being courteous, forthright and taking charge when necessary. As I mentioned in a previous Trestleboard, the All Seeing Eye of God is upon us, act accordingly. Another aspect of leadership is to not play the blame game. Focus on the concern, come up with a solution and pursue that solution to the best of your ability. One more important item to mention is never give up. Times do get difficult; the secret is to build confidence through leadership and hard work. As my year as Worshipful Master winds down the best advice I can offer to future Worshipful Masters is to think for yourself, be prepared and have a plan in place to maintain the peace and harmony of the lodge. And finally do not hesitate to seek advice from those who have gone before you. We are there to help you succeed in your journey to the East.

May our Heavenly Father Bless you and keep you in his eternal Grace.

Fraternally,
Robert A. Taylor
Worshipful Master

Friday October 16th After Lodge Closes: Family & Friends are Welcome

Digital Photo Presentations by Professor Michael "Spike" Fowler

The Pinelands Traveler, Ghost Towns, Bogs, and Legends

Program features: Sand roads, cranberry bogs, cedar swamps, the Jersey Devil, outstanding scenic photographs, captivating stories of the Pines. This premier program, already seen by many groups throughout New Jersey explores the spectacular beauty of the New Jersey Pine Barrens. This exciting program is an excellent way to learn about this great and mysterious region. Even though yellow milkwort, goat's rue and turkey beard sound like names of exotic plants that might be found in a tropical rain forest, in reality they are growing right in our Pinelands. The pygmy forest is a vast region of stunted pine and oak trees that stretch to the horizon. These are just some of the unusual sights that will be pointed out in this show.

Travel down abandoned stage roads to explore once flourishing towns now known as "ghost towns," and look at the colorful cranberry industry. Even tales of the Jersey Devil and other Pinelands characters are included in this extremely popular program.

Presenter Michael Fowler started research on the Pinelands as a hobby over 40 years ago, He has collected thousands of photos of the South Jersey area, compiled a research database for New Jersey Network and the Pinelands Commission, written a book and many articles on ghost towns of the Pines, and escorted about 3,000 people on field trips. He is a frequent contributor of information about Pinelands ghost towns, a featured speaker for many groups, and a member of the New Jersey Pinelands Commission Speakers Organization. He was also appointed to the Pinelands Educational Advisory Council.

Square and Compasses Day Saturday October 10th
Laurel Lodge #237 from 10am to 3pm

Brethren; if you're a regular attendee at lodge meetings or your Cable Tow prevents you from coming to lodge meetings, Saturday October 10th is an opportunity to spend quality time with your Brethren. It's also an opportunity for the general public and men who might be interested in membership to discover what our Fraternity is all about. Open house signs will be posted outside the lodge fences welcoming the public. Laurel Lodge will be serving lunch with the grill that Worshipful Brother Whitney H. Myers donated last year. Stop by for one hour, say hello and have lunch with your Brethren. We are looking forward to seeing you.

Attention NPD Brethren

Brethren, as Treasurer of your lodge, I feel it is my fiduciary responsibility to remind you that dues are payable in advance. That means that your dues for 2015 were due by Dec. 31, 2014. Several brethren have not paid their 2015 dues as of this writing. I would suggest you do so as soon as you can. The Lodge has already paid your assessment to the Grand Lodge on your behalf. This coming November, 2 months from now, you will be receiving your dues bill for 2016. If you have not paid your 2015 dues, you will NOW be 2 years in arrears and could be suspended. I know this could create a financial burden for many of you. That is why I'm hoping you will respond by sending your 2015 dues to the Secretary in the very near future. Fraternally, Joe Rival, Treasurer
