Worshipful Masters Message

Brethren,

I hope you all had a relaxing and enjoyable summer with friends and family! While I love the lazy days of summer, this season still managed to keep us busy despite Laurel Lodge's recess. We have traveled to other lodges in the district for the raising of new brothers. In the midst of all of this, we have attended lodge functions for fun and friendship. WB Bowie has once again masterfully manned the grill at lodge BBQs, the backbone of any get-together. They are always a great time shared with friends and family. I speak for all when I say thank you to WB Ed!

The officers have continued throughout the summer to practice for advanced stations. We still do need brothers to volunteer for officer roles. If you hold an interest in serving to help better Laurel Lodge, please reach out WB Barnish or myself. As the saying goes, you only get out of Masonry what you put in, so brothers, as we close the curtain on yet another summer, let us grab our aprons, pick up our working tools, and keep the ball rolling. I'll leave you all with an excerpt from the Short Talk Bulletin passage titled "The Sound of the Gavel" Despite dating back to 1925, its message still applies to us today. I hope to see you all in lodge soon.

Sincerely and fraternally,
Donald Keppen Jr.
Worshipful Master

“The Sound of the Gavel”

“The long summer days are gone; Autumn is here and the world takes up its tasks. The judge returns to his bench, the preacher to his pulpit, the man of affairs to his desk and the teacher to his/her school - the boys and girls following with no quick step. To some it is a joy, to other a grind; but, all return to the work appointed them to do. Last, but not least, the lodge is opened, tiled and tested; and the sound of the Gavel in the East calls the Craft from refreshment to labor. Soon the noisy quarries will be busy, making ready the stone for a living Temple slowly rising without the sound of hammer or ax; built by the faith and labor of good and wise men as a shrine of fellowship and a shelter for the Holy things of life. The Common Gavel, it is a symbol both of labor and of power. As the square is no doubt the oldest instrument of our science, so the Gavel is its oldest working tool - some trace it back to the rude ax of the stone age. How simple it is - just a piece of metal with a beating surface at one end and a cutting edge at the other, with a handle for better effect in use. Every Mason knows by heart the explanation of its meaning, given him in the First Degree: ‘The Common Gavel is an instrument made us of by Operative Masons to break off the rough and superfluous parts of stones, the better to fit them for the builder's use; but we, as Free and Accepted Masons, are taught to make use of it for the more noble and glorious purpose of divesting our minds and consciences of all the vices and superfluities of life, thereby fitting ourselves as living stones for that spiritual building, that house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.’ The words are simple; their meaning is plain - searching, too, when we think of the rough and superfluous things which need to be broken off and polished away from the best of us, before we are fit to be used by the Master of all good work. Alas, the words are so familiar that we, too, often forget how pointed and practical they are, teaching us the first necessity of the Craft - its need of clean and square men. As we listen to those words for the first time, we did not realize how much meaning they held. No one can. There are so many delicate touches in Masonry, so many fine arts, that time is needed to see and appreciate them. Its business is to build men, taking the raw stuff of us and shaping it into forms of beauty and use. Before us it holds an ideal and plan of a Temple, into which it seeks to build our lives as stones. So, it begins by using the Gavel, cutting away rough edges and breaking off ugly vices. Any man who knows himself at all knows how much it is needed, if he is to be a true man.”

Famous Freemasons Are Everywhere.

Famous Freemasons can be found throughout history: George Washington was a Master Mason, and Benjamin Franklin was a founding member of the first Masonic Lodge in America.

Presidents Franklin D. Roosevelt and Gerald Ford were Masons, as was Prime Minister of Great Britain Winston Churchill. Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, Davy Crockett, Duke Ellington, Nat King Cole, Henry Ford, Paul Robeson and astronaut Buzz Aldrin were also Freemasons.
